

THE VALUE OF
sustainability

lunch & learn (12–1:30 pm) OWP/P, 111 West Washington Street, Suite 2100

Reserve space today for any presentations that interest you. Lunch is provided. RSVP to inspire@owpp.com

site

Monday 9.20.04
SESSION 1

David Yocca of Conservation Design Forum talks about the value of sustainable site design

David Yocca with Conservation Design is a landscape architect and planner noted for his experience in the design and development of both public and private sector projects that embrace the creative integration of cultural and natural environments.

building envelope

Tuesday 9.21.04
SESSION 2

Stephen Cohen + Craig McGregor of Schott North America explain the value of integrated photovoltaics

Schott North America is a leading manufacturer of special glass and glass-related systems. The company aims to improve how people live and work through expert solutions in specialty materials, components and systems. Parent company, RWE Schott Solar GmbH is Europe's largest manufacturer of photovoltaic (PV) solar power components, and ranks fifth worldwide.

building systems

Wednesday 9.22.04
SESSION 3

Tom Vanatta of E-Cube Inc. discusses the value of commissioning, and why and how it applies to the LEED building system

Headquartered in Boulder, Colorado, E-Cube is a leading technical consulting firm with experience commissioning projects throughout the United States.

costs & benefits

Thursday 9.23.04
SESSION 4

Gregory Kats of Capital E Group presents research and analysis of the costs and financial benefits of Green Buildings

Former Director of Financing for the $1.1 billion Office of Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy, Greg Kats gained wide acclaim as principal author of a report to California's Sustainable Building Task Force, "The Costs and Financial Benefits of Green Building." As co-founder and past-chairman of the International Performance Measurement & Verification Protocol, he developed the de facto US standard and technical basis for over $5 billion in comprehensive building energy and water upgrades.

overall value

Friday 9.24.04
SESSION 5

OWP/P Project Presentations + City of Chicago Involvement

As a wrap-up for the week, OWP/P staff will present recent work that exemplifies sustainable thinking and outline some of the firm's recent environmental consulting projects in Chicago.

